Those eligible for nomination are Galion City School graduates and Galion City Schools former teaching and support staff. Nominations are evaluated based on the individual's contributions to their community and activities after high school graduation or their impact upon Galion students as a faculty or staff member.

"We have had some great nominees from the class of 1916 to very recent graduates," said Connections chair Brian Treisch. "Nominees have had impact in the sciences, business, and their communities by their involvement and leadership."
